

Norwalk Mayor Declares Local Disaster

One-Time Disposal of Flood Damaged Items Made Available

July 30, 2015 – Mayor Tom Phillips has declared a local disaster due to the impact of a combination of heavy rain, wide spread local flooding and a power outage that resulted in damage to residential personal property on July 28.

Residents who have flood-damaged items will have the opportunity to place these at the curb for disposal by Tuesday, August 4. All flood-damaged articles must be at the curb no later than 7:00 AM. This is a one-time only, Citywide pick up.

“We received 8.25 inches of rain from this storm,” explains Phillips. “At the peak of the storm, the rain was falling at about 5.5 inches per hour. During the storm, an electrical outage also took place that lasted over two hours, leaving local properties without the ability to keep their sump pumps running.”

Residents with questions can call City Hall at 981-0228 ext. 2221 during business hours.
